

North American Young Generation in Nuclear Publications Committee

Call for Committee Volunteers

NA-YGN is growing and increasing their activities locally, nationally and internationally. As we've gained momentum and exposure the number of publications produced by NA-YGN has grown as well. In order to ensure the quality and timeliness of NA-YGN publications, NA-YGN is establishing a Publications Committee. The Publications Committee will be responsible for managing and maintaining the publications of NA-YGN.

What does that mean? The Publications Committee will:

- Establish and maintain a publications style guide for the NA-YGN
 - Rules for organization name and logo use
 - Document format recommendations, etc.
- Publish the NA-YGN newsletter, Go Nuke!
 - Solicit and edit contributions for each issue
- Publish NA-YGN pamphlets, brochures, and hand out materials
 - Ensure consistent quality and format of all NA-YGN materials
- Maintain the NA-YGN web site
 - Ensure content is regularly updated and that format is consistent throughout web site.

We'd like to extend this opportunity to all interested members who'd like to get more involved. In addition to committee members-at-large, we're looking for a volunteer for the following leadership position:

Go Nuke! Content Editor:

Ensure that the NA-YGN newsletter is a publication of the highest quality, includes information that is relevant and useful to the NA-YGN membership, and is published in a timely manner

The Go Nuke! Content Editor should be able to edit contributions for length and style, correct English grammar and spelling, manage schedules, and work with the Go Nuke! Layout Editor to publish the quarterly newsletter. The Content Editor will work with the current Editor on issues up to and including the Summer Issue.

If you'd like to join this effort to make NA-YGN a more efficient and effective organization, please contact Communications Chair Dave Pointer at pointer@na-ygn.org.
